

LSE UPR

LSE Undergraduate Political Review

---

Dedicated to encouraging and facilitating high quality undergraduate research

Volume I

January 2018

The LSE Undergraduate Political Review is an online platform that aims to encourage and facilitate an engagement in high level political research. We showcase the work of undergraduate students from universities around the world. The LSEUPR offers undergraduates the opportunity to have their research published in a peer reviewed, academic journal. The LSEUPR invites the application to politics of a range of disciplinary perspectives, both within and without the social sciences, both empirical and theoretical.

Editor-in-Chief: Hannah Bailey

Associate Editors: Bob Dong, Philipp Ershov, Felix Farley, Eponine Howarth, Will Smith

Copy Editors: Karina Moxon, Naomi Potter

Events Manager: Trishna Kurian

Journal Website: <http://blogs.lse.ac.uk/lseupr/>

LSE UPR

LSE Undergraduate Political Review

VOLUME I • JANUARY 2018

---

ARTICLES

Similarities and Differences in the Argumentative Characteristics of the Official Brexit Campaigns	James E. Sanders	1
A Politics of the People: Comparing the Use of Populist Discourse in the 2016 US Presidential Election	Joel Pearce	22
In Place of Labour: The Increased Localisation of Electoral Geographies in Competition Between UKIP and Labour	Jack H. Glynn	58
From Waterloo to Wembley: A Comparison of International Football and International Warfare in Building Nationalism	Guillaume Paugam	96
Brexit, Agenda Setting and Framing of Immigration in the Media: The Case of the Daily Mail	Deborah Sogelola	128
Abstracts		iii